

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A filter for removing contaminants from water. The filter has a first porous filter part formed by setting an active carbon in a high-molecular low-melt index polymeric binder. An inlet directs water to be filtered to the first porous filter part. An outlet directs water filtered by passage through the first porous filter part to a point of use.

5

005190-42E46560